Jan Marini, president and CEO of Jan Marini Skin Research, Inc. is one of the most respected names in skincare. In the US, Jan Marini has been at the forefront of major advances in skincare for more than 25 years. She pioneered the use of glycolic acid in skincare and was the first to introduce a stable, topical vitamin C to the skincare market. Since launching in 1994, Jan Marini Skin Research maintains the status as one of the fastest growing skincare companies in the US. Jan Marini's passionate commitment to healthy skin, as an educator, innovator and product researcher, prompted one journalist to dub her 'The Derma Diva'. Jan pioneered medically-validated skin care preparations and has formed associations with some of the world's leading physicians and research scientists. Today her products are used globally to treat common skin conditions such as aging, sun-damaged skin,
